Ruffed Grouse Society News - Early October

TruckVault Voting Update

Scott Linden hopes to put TruckVault's money right where members put their mouse. The public service fundraiser, "TruckVault Cares ... about conservation, canines & kids" started Sept. 20 on his show, Wingshooting USA. RGS members raise funds for the Society and could win prizes for themselves, with every online vote.

Six groups benefit from votes at truckvaultcares.com, including the Ruffed Grouse Society. Together, the groups claim over a million members and supporters.

Every vote for RGS sends a proportional amount of the $10,000 fund to RGS' treasury. Through television commercials and in-show educational features, Wingshooting USA viewers are urged to vote online for their favorite group, and motivate their friends to vote.

All voters are entered in a random drawing for gear prizes including a TruckVault secure vehicle storage system, Fausti shotgun, Tri-Tronics electronic dog training collars and Filson apparel.

TruckVault Voting
What a great start!

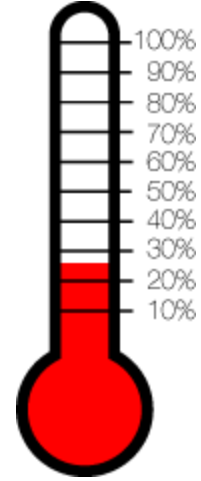

The initiative runs through March, 2012, and is funded by Linden and presenting sponsor TruckVault. It is made possible with support by the National Shooting Sports Foundation, Kent Cartridge, Fausti Shotguns and Filson apparel.

Created and hosted by Scott Linden, Wingshooting USA airs on NBC Sports/VERSUS, Sportsman Channel and three other networks year round.

Your vote means money for RGS. RGS will receive a percentage of the $10,000 pledge depending on the percentage of the votes cast for RGS. At the time of this writing, RGS led with 371 or about 23.4% of the votes cast. Keep RGS in the lead -- Vote now and once a day until the close on March 31, 2012 and ask your friends to do the same!!

Woodcock Migration Mapping

RGS is once again hosting American woodcock migration mapping through at least April 2012. You may post daily reports here and see historical maps here covering prior 24-hour and previous periods.

Forum Registration & Linking

Along with upgrading the Forum software last week and using a new style, RGS has developed simplified instructions for the Forum Registration & Linking procedure. Registration is similar to many other websites and the Linking is a quick three step process. This is your means to gain access to those limited areas of the website, Forums and Photo Gallery that are members-only. Gain access to the areas indicated on the MEMBERS ONLY page of the website: be able to read and post in the Member-only Forums; post your own photos in the Gallery, available from the Forums page; and post your own Hunt Trade queries or Classified Ads in the RGS Marketplace portion of the Forums. You can then also make email and address changes via the Forums.

Provided here are the member number 1129 , expiration date Apr 28 2012 12:00AM , and first and last name Ron & Amy Burkert associated with this email address. If this is not you, please send an email to me using the link at right. Current members may use this information to Register in Part 1 and Link in Part 2 of the simplified instructions and gain immediate access to member-only content. If your membership is expired, please Renew. If expired, it will take at least until the next business day to be able to access member-only content when linked.

RGS-Mart Upgrade

Speaking of changes, we also had the RGS-Mart down last week, for longer than expected, upgrading its software.

I hope these two updates weren't an inconvenience and hope you find the new versions easier to use.

Please let me know if you have any issues with the website.
